SERVICE HOURS

To qualify for the scholarship, you must complete a total of 30 Service Hours.

- Service Hours: 0
- Requirement Met: No

Students must complete volunteer service hours during high school and by high school graduation.

Service hours may include, but are not limited to, a business or governmental internship, work for a nonprofit community service organization, or activities on behalf of a candidate for public office.

The hours must be documented in writing, and signed by the student, the student's parent or guardian, and a representative of the organization.

Each public school district and private school establishes approved activities and the process for documentation of service hours.

Florida’s College & Career Planner 2017-2018

One day, your goal will be to find a place in a career that you really want to pursue. The level of education you achieve can determine the type of job you want to qualify for (and your potential income).

Today, most careers in business, education, technology, and a host of other fields require you to have a four-year degree (Bachelor’s degree). Some careers in medicine or engineering require an advanced degree such as a Master’s or Doctorate degree. Other professions such as nursing and law enforcement may require you to have a two-year degree, such as an associate’s degree. Part-time jobs in the computer industry or construction industries require their employees to have industry certification to gain entry into that profession. What will you need?

It is important to think about careers early and start a plan to reach your goals and income level you want to achieve. The decisions you make about the high school courses you take can make or break your future.

This College & Career Planner is brought to you by the FloridaShines: Student Hub and the Innovative School Districts. You can find more information about your educational options and find the best fit for you. If you need help, it will lead you through the many opportunities available and lay out the key information you need to make your own college and career plan.

Real Life Examples

Buying Groceries

Food is a major cost (from 40% of college). Food generally costs enough money to buy a lot of food after working any odd jobs.

Eating at a high school, junior college, or college can be expensive. Eating at a discount store can save you money.

Buying a House

A house is a college that costs a lot of money to buy a large house. Having a large house will save you money.

Developing Your Study Skills

1. Complete the assigned readings before class.
2. Find out exactly what the test will cover.
3. Find a good place to study.
4. Create your own study guides.

Helpful Study Tips

5. Go to class and take good notes.
6. Create flash cards.
7. Study with other students.
8. Access online resources for your class.

Managing Your Time

Note Taking Skills

Research shows that 99% of students take notes during lectures. But most students don’t do it correctly. Did you know...

- Students typically only record less than 40 percent of the lecture’s main ideas and content.
- Less than half of students review their notes after they have written them.
- Only a third of students edit their notes by adding, deleting, or organizing the material.
- Some students never look at the notes again after they leave class.

Learning Style

Note taking is an essential skill for you, but it’s only effective if used correctly. Try using the VARK Learning Style when taking notes.

Visual: Watch your teacher and the screen, during lectures, powerpoint presentations or visual aids are being used.
Aural: Listen to the lecture. You can also record it and listen to it later for review.
Read/Write: Write down what you see and hear so that you can review it later.
Kinesthetic: Use multiple senses, such as listening, watching and writing, to interact with and learn the material.

Meta-Major: Science, Technology, Engineering and Math

Are you interested in a career in energy but not sure what you want to do? Check out the STEM meta-major at your local state college. A meta-major is a collection of associate degree programs aligned to a general career area, such as energy. Because all programs under the meta-major have common courses, you can pursue a relevant course of study before deciding on a specific degree program.

Education-Career-Income Connection

Energy offers a range of careers with varying education requirements and income levels.

Job Seekers

Going to college and earning a degree are just the first steps. Finding a career you love is what it’s all about.
Welcome to MyCareerShines

MyCareerShines is an online education and career planning system that gives you the tools you need to build a foundation for lifelong career success. You will learn what your interests, skills, and work values are and how to apply them to a career plan for your future.

This website also helps you with real-world skills such as how to write resumes and cover letters, how to research employers, and how to prepare for job interviews. You can even create an electronic profile that you may choose to share online with prospective colleges or employers.

Begin by Taking Assessments

Your assessment results will help us tailor your experience throughout the site.
